Two articles will be found in today's CONSTITUTION, in advocacy of Gen. Gentry for Governor. They are clipped from the Advertiser.

The cadets of West Point will have to get along on $340 in pay and allowances after the end of this fiscal year. They are now receiving $610, which is considerably more than the average family of the land is compelled to submit on.

The house of representatives commence to cut down the executive and legislature appropriation bill to fifteen millions, although the administration makes twenty two millions. The bill of last congress appropriated eighteen millions.

ATTENTION is called to the card of Mr. Woodward, who explains that the non-appearance of the new paper is due to a seizure of its type by other judicial processes instituted, we believe, by creditors of the late Herald.

The senate committee on post office discussed last week the house bill to strike out Hamlin's little job of double postage, but did not reach a definite conclusion. The people will reach a definite conclusion if they do not pass the bill within much more delay.

PRICES FRED "of the army" has actually delivered a message from the president to both branches of congress, and the young man begins to feel the strain of his brain tissues. He anxiously awaits the return of Baff and Sniffer, who have leave of absence for a short sojourn in St. Louis.

NEW BRUNSWICK is full of enterprise and prosperity. The productive power of her factories has been doubled in seven years, and the importation of live stock by the government for the purpose of propagating superior cattle has been satisfactory to the farmers, without entailing any pecuniary loss on the province.

The greenback men are taking the field, says the Philadelphia Times, and going it alone in some of the western counties of Pennsylvania. A correspondent writing from Sharon, Mercer county, says: "We went into the election yesterday with a straight greenback ticket and made that the issue, and we never had a more hotly contested election. The republicans were determined to snuff us out on the start, but we elected every man on the ticket."

ACCORDING to the returns for 1873 made to the adjutant general of the United States army, our "landmen," or organized militia, numbers 89,963 men. No returns were received from Georgia and several other states. We give the reported figures:

CINCINNATI: The republican resumption act went into effect in January, 1873. In a year from that date its operations reduced the total circulating medium forty-two million of dollars.
This is shown by the books of the treasury. This was at the rate of three millions and a half per month. Who was benefited by this? Those who were out of debt and had money to lend. It tightened the money market. It increased the rate of interest. It bore hard upon the merchant and manufacturer and all other borrowers of money.
Therefore, it is injuriously upon the industrial classes whose support rests upon the success of commerce and manufacturers. What a howl there would have been if there had been an expansion in two months of forty-two millions of dollars? Yet the world was lighted by such things. Go on with your contract, and you will be paid. Experience is a dead school, but fools attend it in large numbers. As teachers you are educating a greenback generation.

THE SPEAKERSHIP PRO TERRA.

The administration and "independent" agents bring us several new "points"— we will not call them all facts—that are interesting. Mr. Kett's silence is now pronounced by eminent specialists as evident of the bowels. It undermines his physical strength, and thus destroys his usefulness in a place that demands an unusual capacity for endurance. He was in a state of health when he came to Washington. He perceptively failed during the first month of his service in the chair, then rallied, and now has become so enfeebled that a further discharge of his duties would endanger his life.

The belief prevails in Washington that he will not be able to permanently resume his office. This is a subject of deep and a almost universal regret. Even the New York Times admits that the selection of Mr. Kett has proved to be a wise one. For he has performed his duties in an affable, dignified and efficient manner, so that there has been no cause for complaint by members of either party.

This is high praise, its source being considered.

It seems the speakership prob'ly was offered to Mr. Randall, he having been the second strongest man in the caucus; but he declined it on the ground that a temporary occupation of the chair would be of little value, and he could serve his party better on the floor.

UNSETTLED: As far as I can learn, he has not been able to get a majority of the caucus to support his claim to the speakership. He has, however, been offered the speakership by the party leaders.

—Madame Dubois Cappenberg, who was Napoleon III's wet nurse, died at Geneva on the 8th of January at the age of 94. This venerable woman was born at Berne. Her old friends often went to her to have her talk about her son and her daughter, and she delighted them in telling of their son and daughter's health and wedding, and their child.

—In the village of New Holstein, Calumet county, Wisconsin, there occurred, on day last, in one family, a double wedding, a son and a son wedding, a silver wedding and a blue wedding. The old folks celebrated their golden wedding, their oldest son and their oldest daughter, a blue and a blue wedding, and their child was baptised.

least that is the popular version of a recent marriage. The bride is the widow of his husband, who is more disgruntled than ever he was with the average newspaper man.

this award was, without doubt, the wellknown Hindoo leader, Catahanski's backup.

—The chair occupied by Mr. Morris during his recent ministrations in Phil-after vigorous competition, was knocked down to a purchaser at $50. That was the highest bid, and the bidding was very likely bid in by some impoverished office-holder who had been taxed the verge of suicide for political —A suggestion to the Nervous.

Robust people who have, all their lives eaten, digested and slept well, can scarcely be expected to appreciate the blighting of strong nerves, and the debilitated under all the misery entailed by the power. In order to experience the unspeakable relief of a change from an eaten and unfeeling to a vigorous and tranquill condition of the nervous system, the nervous should try to eat a diet of Honey, Eggs, and Butter. Under the influence and soothing influence of that the nervous appetite, rest, digestion becomes ample and painless, and sleep restful.
